

□ After living in the same house for 49 years things need work. Andy built a new stone retaining wall next to the house this summer. He's back from another season in Antarctica. Connie bikes and takes photos all around Palo Alto and Ted continues to inspire students at Stanford.

□ Morris is in his third year at MIT and Henry is in high school. □ Frank's book has been sent to the publisher and is on schedule to appear this time in 2015. He's a Senior Scientist at Princeton and makes the awful commute twice a week. □ I spent the summer working in the nature program and around the waterfront at the Silver Bay YMCA on Lake George. Winters I spend advocating for good environmental things as chair of the local environmental commission. Right now I'm protesting an oil pipeline they want to put through the town and the adjacent wildlife refuge. □ A bear came through the yard a few weeks ago and tore down all the bird feeders, mostly to get at the suet.
