

Hi Folks,

Dec. 2007

Once again I spent the summer on staff at the Silver Bay YMCA on Lake George in the Adirondacks. The place must suit me because I'm already looking forward to starting year 30 in May. The wildflowers there are spectacular in early spring and fortunately I have some extra time then to go chasing them.

Buckley, Henry, Andy

For my annual wildflower slide show this summer I was allotted twenty minutes in front of fifteen very bored Rotary Club members. Clearly not everyone is excited about seeing photos of weeds and nondescript shrubs - how can this be?

Me at Silver Bay

the Great Swamp Watershed advocacy to wading around invasives and fencing out how hard it is to get alone change the minds of and town officials. His real is at Princeton where he continues to find rewarding colleagues to work with.

Each to his own. Frank has been getting more and more involved with Association, adding in the mud pulling deer. He is finding out information from, let planning board members job, part-time but paid,

Andy the engineer has been playing with planimeters. Analog devices rock. Connie works for Symantec, the anti-virus company, in their never-ending battle against the bad guys. Ted writes educational software and teaches math.

Frank & Connie with Buckley

Red Sea, or tried to, since it's so salty that people bob around like corks. And rode camels. And ate a lot.

Stay well and have fun in 2008.

Morris